

Providence Living at Hunters Creek

SENIOR LIVING

Providence Living at Hunters Creek is a 128-unit, 138-bed assisted living and memory care community in Kissimmee, Florida, designed to deliver a hospitality-forward senior living experience with clear care support and strong amenity depth.

The three-story building uses Mediterranean-inspired massing, warm stucco finishes, tile roofs, tower elements, and a prominent porte cochere to create a welcoming residential identity, while landscaped courtyards, fountains, therapy, dining, and activity spaces support both daily comfort and operational flexibility. Its mix of assisted living and secure memory care positions the project as a well-balanced response to family priorities and developer goals in the senior living market.
