

Providence Independence

SENIOR LIVING

Providence Independence is a 173-unit, three-story independent living community in Wildwood, Florida, designed to align with the character of the nearby Brownwood Paddock town center while delivering a highly amenitized senior living environment. The project's western-inspired architecture, expressed through heavy timber detailing, stone piers, warm siding, and prominent gabled roof forms, creates a strong sense of identity and arrival.

Planned to support active adult lifestyles, the community combines independent living with wellness, dining, social, and recreational spaces in a format that reinforces resident engagement and long-term market appeal.
